The Mormon snake in play? possum. That is an old trick. The Mormonism of Utah with polygamy left out, would be a dead cock in the pit.

Mr. Blaine can induce Mr. Gladstone to visit this country, we shall all be indebted to Mr. Blaine. And what a reception "the grand old man" will get!

SENATOR MORGAN, of Alabama, says he would rather the State should go without manufacturing industries than that they should be built up and maintained by protection. The first thing the able Senator knows he will be feeling lonesome like "way down in Alabama."

SPARKS is dangerous. To have about the Patent Office building. If he isn't careful in his mad career he may make a confound of the whole establishment. And by the way, in Sparks' superior to all the laws ever enacted by Congress? He doth bestride this narrow world like a President bent on giving away flags that don't belong to him.

A CINCINNATI mother gave her son carbolio acid in mistake, and soon the young man was dead. The druggist had properly labeled the poison, but the label was in English, which the German mother could not read. Nobody was responsible for this terrible blunder, which may be repeated at any time under similar circumstances, and there seems to be no way to provide against it.

A LONDON correspondent tells that in an informal discussion of the Irish coercion measures forced upon Mr. Blaine, the foremost of Americans "pulverized the coercionists." That isn't hard to believe. Mr. Blaine understands the case, has strong convictions concerning it and is master of a clear-headed logic that does pulverize what it goes after. If you keep your eyes on your Uncle James you will notice that he will not make any grave errors on the other side of the big wash, and he will be able to hold his own against all comers.

SECRETARY ENDICOTT has issued an order that nothing in the war records shall be given to the public in advance of the official publication, unless by his direct permission. Is this his way of getting back on that portion of the press which has criticized his day order? If so, the Secretary of War is having little trouble to make himself ridiculous. Whatever the press prints the public gets, and since the literature of the war is collected for the public interest, it is the objection to giving it the earliest and fullest publicity? What reason can anybody give out that information should not be given out as soon as it is ready? The Secretary's whim is not a reason.

IMPRISONMENT is losing the tongue of ex-Banker Harper. In the language of men not so high in the scale of criminals, he is "peaching on his pals." The story of another bank with which he was connected, and of the funds of which he had formed associates made use in the famous Handy wheel deal, is doubtless every word true.

While it does not help Harper in his present career, it shows that in Cincinnati some very bold and unscrupulous men were able to get into the banking business on terms very favorable to themselves and dangerous to the patrons of the bank. Harper's recital will be likely to knock the underpinning from some reputations.

"NO INSURANCE" figures frequently in the list of Gratton's fire losses. High rates owing to lack of fire protection probably had something to do with this. For a comparatively small outlay any town can provide itself with apparatus sufficient to deal with an ordinary fire in its beginning. Something is always better than nothing, and everything helps to bring down insurance rates.

Wheeling has about $50,000 invested in her Fire Department and spends $20,000 a year on it, and finds the outlay to pay. Yet Wheeling is by no means lavishly provided, and she may awake some day to the realization that she could better have afforded to put more money in fire protection. In these matters prevention is better than cure, and the only cure in case of fire is the insurance on the loss.

A Mismanned Asylum.

New York, July 6.—The investigation into the management and condition of Ward's Island Lunatic Asylum was resumed to-day. The Commissioners who have general supervision of the institution were examined and exhibited little knowledge of the details of its management. Witnesses were also examined who testified to the poor quality of provisions. The Inspector of provisions said he sometimes had difficulty in preventing the acceptance of provisions which he had rejected, as they were frequently brought back and offered again. He declared that the Commissioners, Porter and Bronson, opposed him in everything. One patient was examined and gave every outward evidence of sanity.

A Shum and Fraud.

SALT LAKE, Utah, July 6.—The Tribune editorially says: "The Mormon article pretending to abolish polygamy is a fraud and a sham. It omits all that is essential to the most prevalent and offensive feature being continuous living in polygamy, and all a Mormon would need to do in order to live up to his religion would be to be quietly married polygamously and keep the knowledge of the fact from outsiders by offering a Mormon Proselyting Allowance for three years. Therefore he could be in the most shameless and independent polygamy with neither law nor constitution to say him nay. He would also be backed by the church and dominant content, and the constitution would be latched to scorn, as the church program was contemplated."

THE GRAFTON FIRE.

SOME FURTHER PARTICULARS.

Of the Disaster—A List of the Losses and the Insurance—Narrow Escape—Chief Dunning's Explanation—Why Engines were not Sent to Grafton.

Special Dispatch to the Intelligencer.

GRAFTON, W. Va., July 6.—All day long the hole the fire burnt in Grafton has been an object of melancholy interest. Viewed in light of the more terrible possibilities, it is evident that only a great deal of hard work and as much good luck saved the town from a worse calamity. Too much cannot be said of the zeal with which the people turned in to help their unfortunate neighbors and save the town. For a while it seemed like fighting against fate, but well directed and persistent effort brought it to a successful issue, and the destruction was, large as the loss is for a small town, a big sign of relief went up when it was seen that the worst was over.

GETTING READY TO REBUILD.

Gratton is a good deal disfigured, but she is still in the rix, and has no intention of throwing up the sponge. Already the work of clearing away the ruins has begun, and will be kept up briskly until the disfigurement of the fire has been wiped out. Mr. Brinkmann, it is said, will build a new block for stores and with a large public hall above, and Messrs. Miller, Thayer, White and Shaw will jointly build a large block.

LOSSES AND INSURANCE.

Following is a list of the heaviest losses and a full list of insurance:

Frank Warthen, restaurant and household goods, loss $700; insurance, $400. T. E. Cole, furniture, loss $2,000; insurance, $1,500. A. H. Thayer, building, $4,000; no insurance. H. J. Muzler, hardware, loss $6,500; insurance, $1,500. Davis S. Byers, dry goods, loss $300; fire insurance, $200. S. P. Boverlin, furniture, loss $2,000; no insurance. S. P. Kimmel, loss $2,000; no insurance. Dr. A. M. Jarrett, loss $2,500; insurance $1,000. Dr. W. F. Van Kirk, loss $300; no insurance. Dr. Walker, loss $500; no insurance. P. Lambrecht, jeweler, loss $800; no insurance. E. M. Boram, hotel, loss $15,000; insurance $2,000. Lloyd Dunire, loss $1,700; no insurance. A. R. Lipcomb, druggist, loss $1,200; no insurance. R. D. Walcott, loss $2,000; no insurance. George Hite, tobacco, loss $2,500; insurance $800. Klein & Neubaum, clothing, loss $7,000; insurance $4,000. First National Bank, loss $400; fully insured. Robert Shaw, buildings, loss $3,000; no insurance. D. M. Swain, buildings, loss $12,000; no insurance. Freedman & Co., clothing, loss $1,000; fully insured. John R. Fallon, loss $300; no insurance. Gratton Gas Company, loss $300; no insurance. Standard-Enterprise office, loss $2,000; no insurance. James Jennings, loss $1,700; no insurance. John A. McCabe, loss $500; no insurance. Flannery & McCarry, Central Hotel, loss $10,000; insurance $1,500. Mrs. Mary M. Martin, loss $600; no insurance. Dr. D. M. Campbell, loss $2,500; no insurance. E. R. Cole, merchandise, loss $800; no insurance. George Brinkmann, loss $2,500, fully covered by insurance. Mrs. Ann Daley, loss $2,500; insurance $1,200. Isaac Evans, loss $3,000; insurance $1,000. C. C. Hayes, milliner, loss $3,000; no insurance. Thomas Turner, grocery, loss five hundred; no insurance. P. Ray, loss $700; no insurance. Harry Miller, loss $3,000; insurance $1,200.

The policies could not all be definitely located, but they are divided among the German, Fire and Marine and A. M. of New York, Royal of Liverpool, and one or two other companies.

Additional loss in amounts ranging from $25 to $300, consisting principally of household effects and wearing apparel, will swell the total to $10,000. Tuesday morning Mr. Hayes had barely time to get out of her house, and lost her entire personal wardrobe with her stock of millinery.

Many of the guests of the burned hotels lost everything except what few articles of clothing they could pick up as they rushed from the doomed buildings.

A Talk With Chief Dunning.

An Intelligencer reporter met Chief Marshal Dunning, of the Fire Department, yesterday, and in the course of a conversation about the Grafton fire and the application for aid sent to Mayor Seabright, Mr. Dunning said he was not to be taken for an engine there, but in the same article says that had an engine been sent it could not have arrived in time to do any good. I lost the Parkersburg engine did not get there till the fire was out. The engine could not have been of any use why send it? Personally I felt as sorry for Gratton's loss as anybody, but I did not look on the request to send an engine there as a sentimental matter. I regarded it in a practical light. The reasons which governed me in advocating a refusal to send were: first, that the ordinances of the city require us to collect $50 an hour for the time an engine sent out of town; secondly, that the engine came from Uppt. Dugan, who is not authorized to represent Gratton, and would not have been responsible for the loss; thirdly, that the engine was not in the city and it was peculiarly liable to fire from fire-crackers, which might have smoldered on roofs over night. If a big fire had broken out here while the Sissy engine was away, it would have been a disaster. I consider that engine at least half of our facilities; in a large fire it does fully two-thirds of all the work done.

There was another thought: suppose the engine, which cost over $4,000, had been wrecked in a practical light. The reasons which governed me in advocating a refusal to send were: first, that the ordinances of the city require us to collect $50 an hour for the time an engine sent out of town; secondly, that the engine came from Uppt. Dugan, who is not authorized to represent Gratton, and would not have been responsible for the loss; thirdly, that the engine was not in the city and it was peculiarly liable to fire from fire-crackers, which might have smoldered on roofs over night. PINKERTON'S MEN ON GUARD.

The Striking Employees Angered at Their Presence, and Trouble, if not Bloodshed, Expected—Some of the Strikers Return to Work.

UNIONTOWNS, Pa., July 6.—The presence of Pinkerton's armed men in the coke regions has caused intense excitement and serious trouble may follow. The strikers are indignant and denounce the action of the operators in bringing the detectives into the regions in the least of terms. Last night five hundred strikers at West Leisenring held a meeting and unanimously resolved to continue the strike. At Jintown it is said the men are weakening and a large number are expected to return to work before the close of the week.

William Mallen, Secretary of the Miner's Association, says: "The men are quiet but determined, and the introduction of the Pinkerton detectives into the coke region will be the advent of a bitter feeling between the employers and employees that will not be easily forgotten. Some, as a matter of course, take up a cry and shout it aloud, because they have grown to look upon American citizenship as a sacred treasure, and the strikers will be counseled to keep within the limits of the law, but the landing of Pinkerton's detectives has been the starting of a strong breeze sprung up and fanning a fire that is now a conflagration. Another Outbreak.

OF FIRE AT CLARENDON, Pa.—Two Hundred and thirty houses and buildings destroyed.

ENIS, Pa., July 6.—The terrible devastation which swept the little town of Clarendon on Monday was supplemented yesterday by another visitation which threatened to complete the destruction and wipe out the little that remained.

The smoldering piles left by the fire were being blown by the wind, blowing any further damage, but it appeared there was sufficient life left to commiserate with the woods on the hillside. Yesterday a strong breeze sprung up and fanning a fire that is now a conflagration. DR. McGLYNN'S CASE.

The Situation of the Church of Rome, Charges Against the Pope.

New York, July 6.—The position of Dr. McGlynn is the chief topic of conversation in Catholic circles. The prospect is that while the edict of ex-communication will go formally into force it will not be the cause of any public demonstration in any church. The fact of his notification and the further fact that he is no longer a priest, but a layman, will be published in the newspapers.

Concerning the true position of the Roman church with reference to Dr. McGlynn and all other citizens of this country, having heard that one of the most eminent of the local fathers had been engaged in succinctly setting forth the church view of the matter, called upon the priest in question and was informed that the priest had been under the heading "The Ostracism McGlynn and Rome's Aggression," the eminent gentleman to-day furnished for publication his analysis of the situation from the standpoint of the church, as follows:

There seems to be a lack of fairness in the charges which of late have been so recklessly hurled against the Catholic Church and our Holy Father the Pope for disregarding or ignoring or limiting or tramping upon the rights of citizenship. Some, as a matter of course, take up a cry and shout it aloud, because they have grown to look upon American citizenship as a sacred treasure, and the strikers will be counseled to keep within the limits of the law, but the landing of Pinkerton's detectives has been the starting of a strong breeze sprung up and fanning a fire that is now a conflagration. ATTEMPTED SUICIDE.

CAUSES A BIG SENSATION.

In the City of Parkersburg—The Proceedings of the West Virginia Educational Association in Session at Charleston, The Harper's Ferry Mill Case.

SPECIAL DISPATCH TO THE INTELLIGENCER.

PARKERSBURG, W. Va., July 6.—Mrs. Perry Farrow, a well-known lady of this city, aged about forty, made two or three desperate attempts to commit suicide to-day by taking large doses of laudanum. Dr. Williamson was called and succeeded in bringing her back to life.

These attempts were made because of certain reports that had gained general circulation concerning the lady's relations with prominent married men of the city. Her husband left her several weeks ago. The whole affair has created considerable of a sensation.

EDUCATIONAL ASSOCIATION.

SPECIAL DISPATCH TO THE INTELLIGENCER.

CHARLESTON, W. Va., July 6.—The principal feature of the Educational Association to-day was Mrs. McGlynn's paper on the subject of "Holds and Hindrances," which is spoken of by all who heard it as one of the best papers ever presented before an association in the State, and Prof. U. S. Fleming's temperance talk. Mr. Fleming outlined his subject on the blackboard, and it was earnestly discussed.

GAIRRETT'S WESTERN PROJECT.

Negotiations for the New St. Louis Route Well Under Way.

New York, July 6.—The links in the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad deal so far as the Western end is concerned are being slowly forged. When the Vandalla road passed into the hands of the Ives party the Baltimore & Ohio was given a representation in the board, and at a meeting of the directors recently Joseph Collett and William M. Ramsey resigned. These vacancies were filled by the election of Ives' partner, George H. Stagner, who is also President of the Cincinnati, Hamilton & Dayton, and W. O. Bond, who is also member of the firm of Ives & Co., and Secretary of Dayton, Ft. Wayne & Chicago. This last-named road was formed by the consolidation of the Cincinnati & Ironton and the Dayton & Chicago a few weeks ago, and the Baltimore & Ohio and Cincinnati, Hamilton & Dayton were given a representation in the board.

This line proposes to build from Washington to St. Louis, which would be made up of the Dayton & Ironton and the Dayton & Chicago a few weeks ago, and the Baltimore & Ohio and Cincinnati, Hamilton & Dayton were given a representation in the board.

NEW PARTY FORMED.

BY THE PEOPLE OF CALIFORNIA.

Which Not Only Promises to become Popular on the Pacific Coast, but Throughout the Entire Country—Principles of the New Organization.

SAN FRANCISCO, July 6.—Delegates from various parts of the State closed a three days' secret session here to-day, formulating a plan for the organization of an American party. A mass meeting was held here to-night at which the platform of the new party was read and adopted. The platform calls for the unconditional repeal of naturalization laws, modification of laws permitting and encouraging immigration, so that shiftless, criminal and other undesirable classes may be excluded; prohibition of alien landholders, total separation of church and State, and no interference by any church with the American school system. The platform also demands a law compelling citizens to vote at every election.

THE STATE Central Committee was organized with Oliver Eldridge as President. Spoken at the meeting to-night predicted that the new party would become national and would supersede in power the dominant political party.

SOME OF THE AMUSING FEATURES OF THE ABSTRACT.

LONDON, July 6.—The tension between France and Germany has its amusing features as well as its serious aspects, and probably nothing more absurd is discoverable in the state of feeling existing on either side than the avidity with which the French press seizes the most trifling opportunity to manufacture a sensation or give expression to their hatred of Germany. There is no incident, however insignificant, in connection with the German people, and particularly the German army, that does not prove a mine of interest to the French press.
